March 2026

Last Month in Southport

Spring has officially arrived, but it doesn't quite feel like it yet, as winter is still hanging on with patches of snow, temperatures that haven't fully made the jump to warmth. True spring still feels just out of reach, however, here are some highlights from the month of March in Southport.

- Staff Updates: Southport welcomed a new team member, Southport wishes them every success in their next steps.
  - Kimberly Rodriguez - Customer Service Representative
- Southport Corporate Stewardship: With the recent update on Southport corporate stewardship process, Southport received about 28 applications which have been reviewed, and Southport is set to distribute about $26,000 to support various community events and project this quarter as it enters its 2026/2027 fiscal year on April 1, 2026.
- Southport Supports UMSAE Polar Air: Southport is proud to have supported the student-led UMSAE Polar Air team at the University of Manitoba for the 2025/2026 SAE Aero Design Competition. The team designed and built lightweight, radio-controlled aircraft capable of carrying impressive payloads and landed the 9th position overall in the competition. Through innovation and teamwork, these students continue to push the boundaries of aerospace design, and they are happy Southport supported this meaningful cause.
- Southport Supports Last Chance Bonspiel: Southport was proud to sponsor the 2026 Last Chance Bonspiel as a 4-foot sponsor, earning recognition as the A Event sponsor. This year's bonspiel brought together 48 teams and showcased strong community spirit, supported by the generous contributions of local businesses. Southport is pleased to be part of an event that continues to celebrate sport, teamwork, and community engagement.

- From Southport to Space: Canadian Space Agency astronaut Col. Jeremy Hansen's journey, from training at Southport and Moose Jaw to the Artemis II mission, highlights the importance of Canada's military aircrew training, not only for national defence, but for Canada's continued leadership on the global stage.

His path is a powerful reminder to current and future students: even the sky isn't the limit.

Congratulations to Col. Jeremy Hansen and his crewmates on a successful launch. Beginning at home in Canada, his story reflects the very best of the Royal Canadian Air Force and the training systems that support it.

Southport is proud to have been part of his journey. From early training to the global stage, his achievements continue to inspire and showcase the strength of Canada's aviation and training community.
